Since 1908, Southern Gas Association has been investing in the people of the natural gas industry, by providing learning opportunities for personal and professional growth. Specializing in the facilitation of peer-to-peer collaboration, education on industry and leadership topics, and the development and management of joint industry projects, SGA supports member company volunteers and industry leaders, who work to actively engage the natural gas industry for a brighter tomorrow.

WHAT WE DO

SGA engages members through exceptional experiences where they can learn information, exchange ideas, and share solutions. Our members represent the entire natural gas business, which is reflected through a robust committee structure. Working together as one, SGA members create content, resources, and initiatives that foster professional development and advancement of the natural gas industry.

OUR MEMBERS

SGA is a community of natural gas professionals across the U.S. and Canada. Representing the industry as a whole, from drill bit to burner tip, SGA's membership comprises 200 businesses across the distribution, pipeline, and gas supply marketing sectors as well as more than 300 industry partners serving the industry as vendors, suppliers, and consultants. Through virtual and in-person engagement, SGA members come together to share ideas, resources, and best practices to develop people, relationships, and solutions.
